Process for changes to marketing and recruitment materials

1. Each policy is on a review cycle, as dictated by policy 2-S-100-01. The responsible party, (a committee or department director or chair) reviews the policy and makes changes as appropriate. The policy is then distributed to the entire college so updates can be made to the advertisements and recruitment materials.
2. Changes to the website are triggered by policy or process changes. The Dean of Enrollment Management is the point person for all website changes, so that if any marketing materials need to be updated, they can be done by the Admissions Office. The website change then flows to the Assistant to the President for branding, editing, and placement purposes. Finally, when approved by both the Dean of Enrollment Management and the Assistant to the President, the change goes to the Instructional Technology Specialist to make the change on the website.
